

How to make mobile phone conference calling

To make a conference call from you mobile,

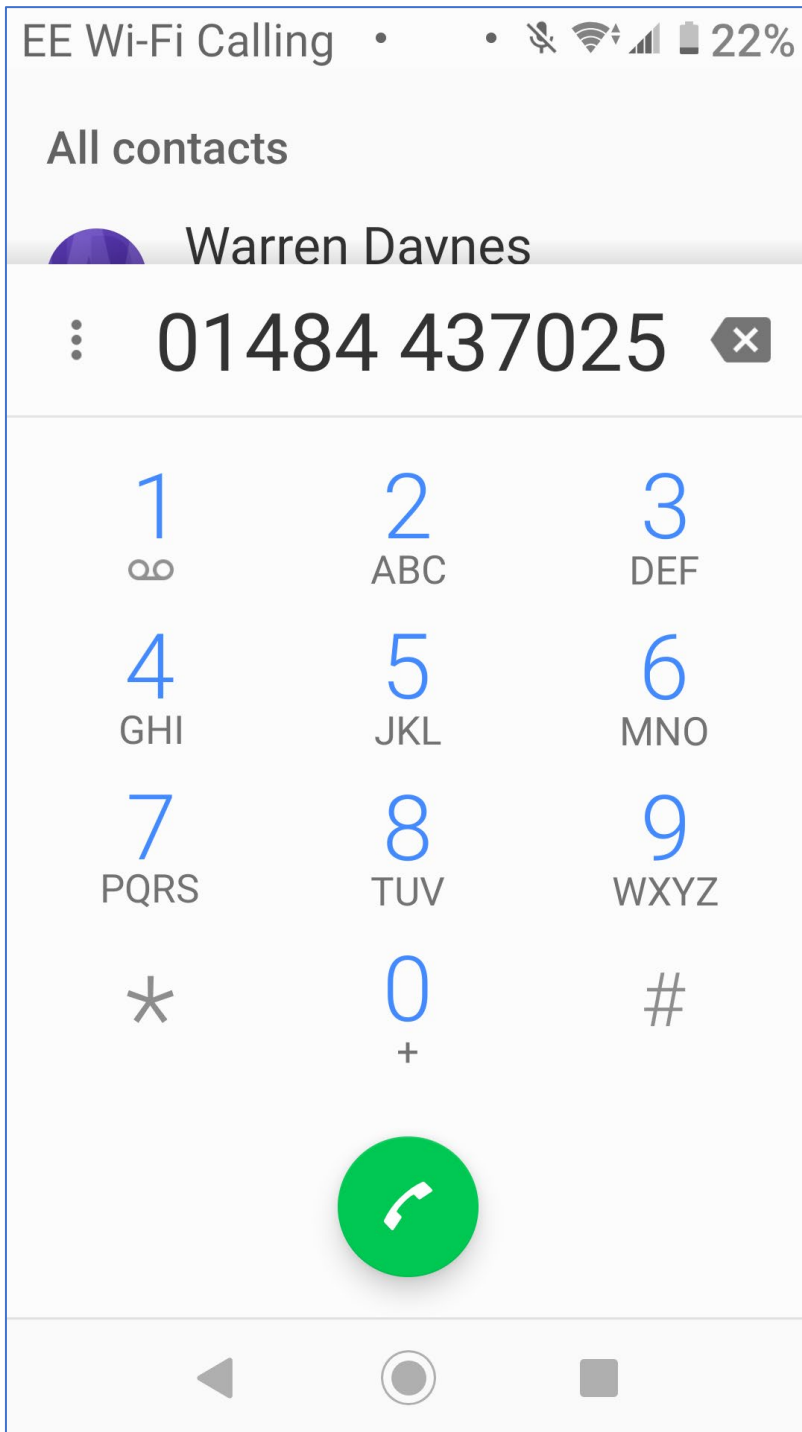

1, make a phone call in your usual way

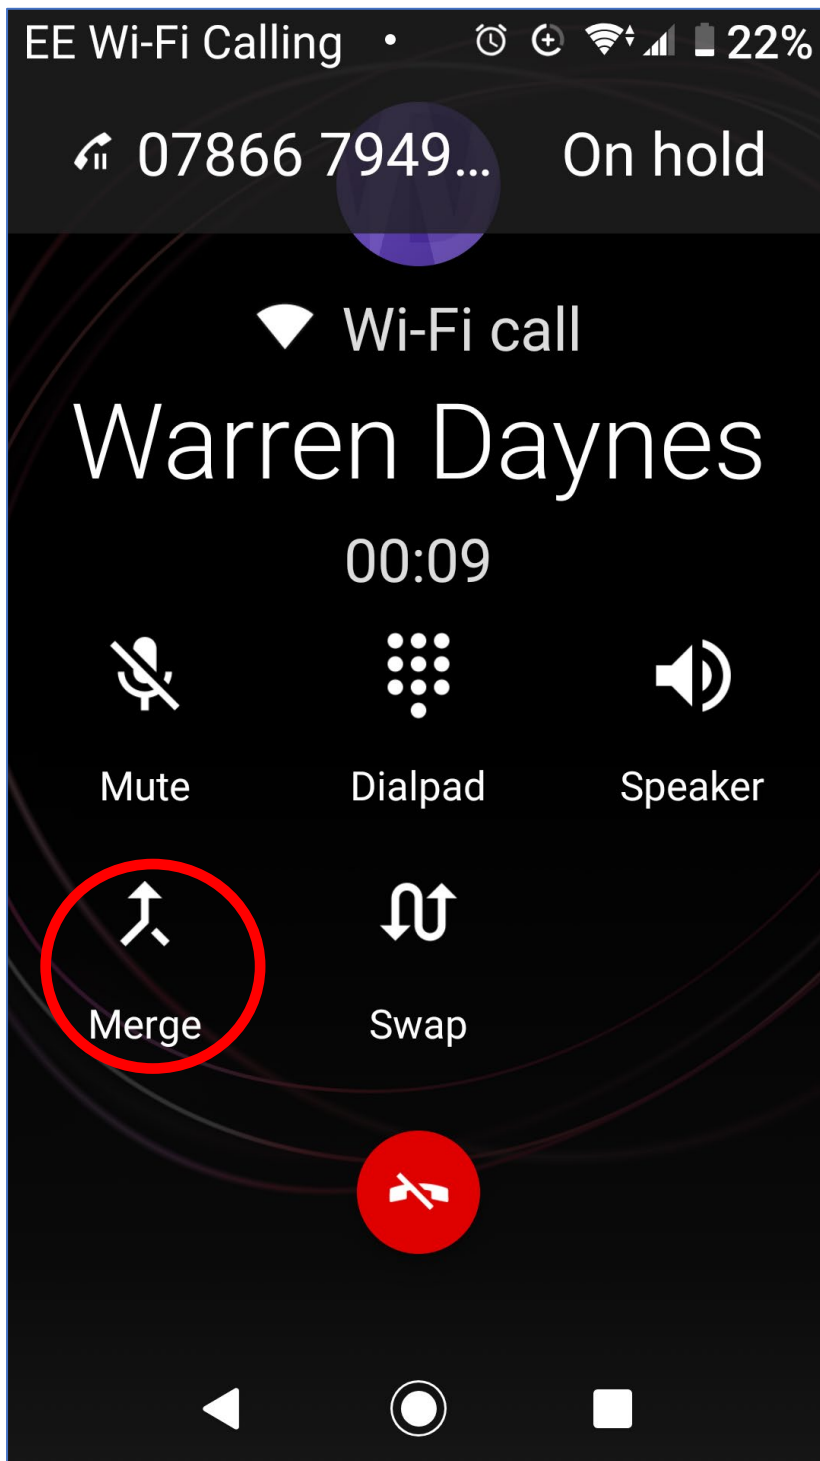

2, Once the call has connected, press the 'Add Call' button to add another caller to the conference.

3, Now either dial the number directly into the dial pad or open up your contacts and select the number you want to join your call and press the dial button.

4, Once the new invitee has answered the call, press the 'Merge' button to create the conference call.

If you want to add more people to your call, repeat the process from stage 2 as many times as you need.

Also, anybody on the conference call can add further people to the call if they wish to do so by following the same directions.
